Accomplishing NAGPRA: Perspectives On The Intent, Impact, And Future Of The Native American Graves Protection And Repatriation Act (First Peoples)

Synopsis

Accomplishing NAGPRA reveals the day-to-day reality of implementing the Native American Graves Protection and Repatriation Act. The diverse contributors to this timely volume reflect the viewpoints of tribes, museums, federal agencies, attorneys, academics, and others invested in the landmark act. NAGPRA requires museums and federal agencies to return requested Native American cultural items to lineal descendants, culturally affiliated Indian tribes, and Native Hawai'iian organizations. Since the 1990 passage of the act, museums and federal agencies have made more than one million cultural items and the remains of nearly forty thousand Native Americans available for repatriation. Drawing on case studies, personal reflections, historical documents, and statistics, the volume examines NAGPRA and its grassroots, practical application throughout the United States. Accomplishing NAGPRA will appeal to professionals and academics with an interest in cultural resource management, Indian and human rights law, Indigenous studies, social justice movements, and public policy.
